TOMORROW'S ACCESS TO SUPPLEMENTS IN CLINICAL PRACTICE

1. How Health Canada has caused a divide and misled us about the “need and value” of the regulations.
2. The obstacles and losses faced by Canada’s supplement companies and traditional herbalists.
3. What our future looks like under these ever-changing regulations, and potential outcomes.
4. How this will affect our professional choices in practice and personal choices at home.
5. The consequences to us as the profiles of some of our trusted products begin to change (cost, potency, efficacy)
6. The direct and impactful action we can take to protect our rights and freedoms to practice with the tools we need in our profession.
